What are the times available for coaching?

Coaching and Support · https://www.re-origin.com/support/group-coaching-session-times

We have members from all over the world, so our group coaching schedule is intentionally structured to support a global community. Instead of fixed times, group coaching session times rotate regularly to ensure fair access for everyone.

This rotating schedule allows:

- different time zones to be accommodated consistently
- equal access to live group coaching sessions over time
- more members to attend sessions that fit their availability

Because group coaching session times change periodically, we're unable to provide a fixed schedule or exact session times in advance. This flexible approach ensures that no single time zone is always prioritised.

Once you join the program and access the community, you'll be able to view all available group coaching session times through the booking system. This includes upcoming sessions, dates, and times, allowing you to choose the sessions that work best for your schedule.

New group coaching sessions are added regularly, giving you ongoing opportunities to attend live coaching.

If you're unable to attend a live group coaching session, you won't miss out. Detailed session notes are provided in your private group space, so you can stay up to date with key insights, coaching guidance, and discussions.

This means you can continue making progress whether you attend sessions live or review the content afterwards.

Where do I find Group Coaching times?

We have members from all over the world and across multiple time zones, so we design our group coaching schedule to be as inclusive as possible.

To support this, session times rotate and change periodically. We do this intentionally so that:

different time zones are regularly accommodated the same members aren’t always advantaged or disadvantaged more people have fair access to live support over time

Because of this rotating schedule, we’re unable to provide exact times and dates in advance.

Once you purchase the program and enter the community, you’ll have full access to the group coaching booking system, where you can see all current session times and reserve the ones that work best for you.
