What is the re-origin Brain TrustTM?

Getting Started · https://www.re-origin.com/support/what-is-the-re-origin-brain-trust

The re-origin Brain Trust™ is a group of neuroscience and psychology experts who contribute to the development and integrity of the re-origin program.

They provide scientific input, review concepts, and help ensure the methods used are grounded in established research on the brain, behaviour, and neuroplasticity. Through expert-led discussions and Q&A sessions, members can gain insights that support their understanding and practice.

Who is part of the re-origin Brain Trust™?

The Brain Trust™ includes professionals with backgrounds in neuroscience, psychology, and related fields who contribute their expertise to the program.

How does the Brain Trust™ support members?

They support members by providing expert insights, helping explain key concepts, and contributing to educational content and discussions.
